An experienced teacher, caterer, and writer for more than 25 years, I thoroughly enjoy sharing my enthusiasm for food and cooking with my students, clients and readers.

Available for hands-on private cooking classes and small catered events, I divide my time between Santa Fe, New Mexico and Perugia, Italy where my love of "all things Italian" as well as other ethnic cuisines has fervently blossomed.

I am also currently writing a first of its kind comprehensive book on gnocchi, the loved Italian dumpling.

I invite you to peruse my site....
